

Construction Pathways

CPC20220 CERTIFICATE II IN CONSTRUCTION PATHWAYS

What it is

This program offers students the opportunity to develop foundational skills and knowledge to support them to gain employment in the Building and Construction Industry.

The first year of the program will concentrate on the delivery of bricklaying and block laying, using bricklaying tools and concreting skills. Students will lay bricks to form walls, whilst learning how to undertake construction work safely.

In the second year of the program, students will focus on carpentry. They learn how to safely use carpentry tools and handle carpentry materials. Students complete a basic project such as building a cubby house or timber gazebo.
